

ADVANTAGES OF DOING YOUR OWN DIVORCE

In the perfect world you would have enough money to hire a good lawyer to represent your interests in a divorce and the amount of his attorney fees would not have a traumatic effect on your life, that of your spouse and the well being of your family. Now back to reality!

About 80% of all family law matters in California are handled by those who represent themselves or are "in pro per" to use the legal jargon.

Studies have shown that people who take an active role in their divorce generally do much better emotionally and legally. For example, a "good outcome" would mean that their spouse is in better compliance with the court orders, there is less post-divorce stress and less litigation, more goodwill and better co-parenting.

Representing yourself does not mean not getting professional advice from a qualified attorney. Call the Law Offices of Franklin Radoff for assistance and immediate answers to your family law questions. Mr. Radoff charges $39.95 per call charged on your bank or credit card. You will speak directly with Mr. Radoff.

The key to a "good outcome" in your case is mediation. The more problems between the parties the more you need to mediate.

The most obvious advantage of representing yourself is economics. Lawyers charge $2,500 and up just for a retainer, which they apply to their hourly fee. Attorneys' hourly fees usually runs from $175 to $600 per hour. Yes, I said $600 per hour.

Another advantage in representing yourself is to keep it simple!

The last thing you want is an attorney who is out of control yielding large monthly bills while nothing is happening.

Mr. Radoff's office charges only $450 to start your initial paperwork. This fee includes legal advice. Your matter is handled by phone and through the mails in order to keep the costs down and provide you with the best quality of expert assistance available.
