

PROTECT YOUR CREDIT

Your credit is one of your most valuable assets. If you and your spouse share accounts, you also share he or her debt no matter who does the buying. As long as those accounts are open, you are responsible and risk damaging your credit.

To protect yourself Mr. Radoff suggests you do the following:

- Close accounts in both parties name and open new ones that are separate.
- Obtain a credit report to determine to whom you owe money to and make sure they are paid on time. Your credit report will assist your attorney with the amount of debt owed and the company those debts are owed to.
- Seek emergency protective orders forcing the party who is the bread winner to pay all current outstanding debts on a timely basis and to provide you or your attorney with proof of payment within a reasonable time.

Your concerns to maintain your good credit should be told to your attorney so he can work for you to protect it.

If you cannot afford an attorney Mr. Radoff will be happy to prepare the necessary documents for you to represent yourself and provide you with the legal advice you need in any court in California.

For more information order Mr. Radoff's Divorce Checklist now!

ORDER: <http://www.divorce-familylaw-lawyer.com/divorcechecklist.html>

Permission is not granted to reproduce, copy or distribute any part of this article without the prior written permission from Franklin Radoff ©2002 Law Offices of Franklin Radoff. All rights reserved.