

TAXES AND DIVORCE

Many times there are issues as to the amount and who pay what taxes. Attorneys are not tax specialists and you should always get the advice of an expert accountant or tax attorney.

You are not obligated to file a joint tax return. However, the filing of one may be a good tax saving for both parties and a good bargaining tool.

This means that before you sign anything that may have a tax impact on your financial status get professional advice.

Some of the tax issues will be:

- Filing separate or joint tax returns
- Who obtains the tax deduction for child custody
- Income from the sale of assets and long term capital gains
- Family allowance vs. child support
- Deduction for attorney fees and cost related thereto

If you cannot afford an attorney Mr. Radoff will be happy to prepare the necessary documents for you to represent yourself and provide you with the legal advice you need in any court in California.

For more information order Mr. Radoff's Divorce Checklist now!

ORDER: <http://www.divorce-familylaw-lawyer.com/divorcechecklist.html>

Permission is not granted to reproduce, copy or distribute any part of this article without the prior written permission from Franklin Radoff ©2002 Law Offices of Franklin Radoff. All rights reserved.